WALTER CAMP HAS AN IDEA

Suggests an Important Change Talks of Baseball League for In Football Rules.

BELIEVES THIS WOULD DO COMPOSED ONLY OF TOWNS IN AWAY WITH MASS PLAYS.

Chicago, Dec. 14.- Football men all over the west are discussing Walter Camp's proposition to increase the distance to be gained in four downs from five yards to ten yards.

lie to understand what the play was all

"I believe the rules as they stand are good enough, and that the single revision suggested by Mr. Camp would go a long way toward making the play more open and interesting.

'The coaches would have to evolve a novel style of play to meet the require ments of greater ground gains. I should make scoring more frequent and otherwise add to those features of the game the public is most deeply inter-

Former Captain Speik of the Maroons agrees with Eckie: "I think the suggestion would make an improvement in the game, and am glad to hear that Mr. Camp has taken the matter up. If it should be made a rule, it will do away with the close, bushing style of play, and make cleverness and skill of more importance and strength and weight of less importance -both things to be desired in my opin-

Charles A. Reuber, captain of North-vestern, said: "We are heartily in western, said: iavor of Mr. Camp's proposition, as it will lead to a more open style of play. Short gains, made by beef alone, and netting only a yard or two, will not aggregate enough in three downs, so that speed and science will be the Gualities that count."

Harry I. Allen, former captain Northwestern: "The open game which would result from the adoption of Walter Camp's suggestion would be a great improvement for the spectators as well as for the players themselves. Weight as for the players them: alone will cease to win games, and insenuity in planning plays, backed by skill and speed in executing them, will be the winning factor in future contests f the ten-yard rule is adopted."

Evaris Wrenn, the best football offi-cial in the west, said: "Walter Camp is without question the closest student of the game in this country, and, I presume, believes the change feasible without serious detriment to the game. Personally, I would like to see the experiment tried, although it looks as if such a change would result in nothing but frequent kicking. I have great faith in what Mr. Camp says, so I know he has the interests of the sport at heart and is well qualified to Edgar N. Wrightington, Harvard's head coach, says: "I do not agree with Mr. Camp that the change which he proposed would have the effect of do-ing away with the mass momentum Plays. A change in the rules making it necessary to gain ten yards instead of five would not change the style of Liay, to my way of thinking, but would have the effect of having the ball change hands oftener or else of producing a game in which kicking played a larger part than it does at the pres-

WALTER WILMOT COMES TO TOWN

Next Season.

TEN YARDS INSTEAD OF FIVE WOULD FORM NEW CIRCUIT

UTAH AND MONIANA.

Walter Wilmot, manager and owner of the Butte Baseball club, arrived in Salt

Lake last evening. Wilmot comes to Zion to talk over the baseball outlook for next season, and he believes that the five yards to ten yards.

The suggestion of Yale's famous athletic menter has not met the storm of disapproval which greeted his first ruling when in 1885, in order to prevent the "block" game, which had practically killed the sport, he proposed the present five yards' rule, which has been in existence ever since. The excellence of the rule has been troved, for it has endured since the carly '80s, and only the improvements in the game suggest the need of a revision which will tend to make the play more open, more spectacular, more interesting to the general public that supports the sport by paying its way in to see the games.

The simplicity of Camp's suggestion is what appeals most to the football experts, players and coaches.

"The great trouble with most suggested revisions of the rules," said Fekersall, discussing the proposed changes, "is that they would necessitate revision of many secondary rules, the complication of the game which would tend to make it hard for the public to understand what the play was all about.

Various stories as to the nationality of General Stoessel have made him out a German, a Jew, a Swiss, a Swede. It appears that in a way Russia is indebted to her ancient enemy, Sweden, for the valiant defender of Port Arthur, for General Stoessel's grandfather was a Swedish army offiver. But his father served in the Rusian army and was a member of the orthodox church. General Stoessel, who is now 56 years old, studied at the Pavloff military academy in the same class as Kuropackin and served through the war with Turkey. Then, as a commander in Siberia, he won high distinction for administrative work. (Echo de Paris.)

The large man was greeted very cordially by the senator, and they went together to the restau-rant to join the other Calitornians. Before going the large man asked me if I could call at his hotel at 8 o'clock that evening and I answered that I could de so. He then gave me his card, saying: 'I will thank you to be pro.apt.'

Salt Lake City citizens endorse it. Robert C. Garner of 934 East Second South, says: "When a man has used at least fifty different kinds of salves and ointments during six years that he has been pestered with itching hemorrhoids, commonly known as piles, that man al preclates the means he last employs which brings him relief. A friend gave me a box of Doan's Ointment, which he had procured at the F. J. Hill Drug fected gradually contracted until it actually dried up. Not only can I speak positively from experience Dcan's Ointment, but I have heard quite a number of other people in Salt Lake City say that it was decidedly valuable. You are at liberty to refer others to me for minuter particulars
